

Tell Children's Place to pay the full $8 million it owes to Bangladesh factory collapse victims!

Children's Place has failed to pay adequate compensation to the families of the 1,138 workers who were killed and 2,500 who were injured in the Rana Plaza building collapse in Bangladesh on April 24, 2013. Meanwhile, the CEO of Children's Place, Jane Elfers, made $17 million last year, more than double what Children's Place owes to the victims, whose hard work contributed to the company's profits.

JOIN THE GLOBAL DAY OF ACTION: Thursday, April 24, 12-1PM
Children's Place store at Union Square
36 Union Square East, New York, NY 10003

Supported by: 99 Pickets, International Labor Rights Forum, New York City Central Labor Council, Remembering the Triangle Fire Coalition, United Students Against Sweatshops, and Workers United.
www.orphansplace.com

Tell Children's Place to pay the full $8 million it owes to Bangladesh factory collapse victims!

Children's Place has failed to pay adequate compensation to the families of the 1,138 workers who were killed and 2,500 who were injured in the Rana Plaza building collapse in Bangladesh on April 24, 2013. Meanwhile, the CEO of Children's Place, Jane Elfers, made $17 million last year, more than double what Children's Place owes to the victims, whose hard work contributed to the company's profits.

JOIN THE GLOBAL DAY OF ACTION: Thursday, April 24, 12-1PM
Children's Place store at Union Square
36 Union Square East, New York, NY 10003

Supported by: 99 Pickets, International Labor Rights Forum, New York City Central Labor Council, Remembering the Triangle Fire Coalition, United Students Against Sweatshops, and Workers United.
www.orphansplace.com